NORWAY AND VICINITY.

A Wild Night for Wild Cats.

Wednesday night was wild, and the Wild Cats of Norway, restless in the storm, gathered at the hospitable home of E. E. Andrews on Main street. Mr. and Mrs. H. F. Andrews, the Drs. Brooks, Barker and Bartlett, with their wives, C. P. Barnes and wife, Mr. and Mrs. L. H. Cushman and Mrs. A. J. Stearns made up a jolly company.

Supper was served at 7 o'clock and the hours of the evening spent away with jest and jollity. What matter how the night behaved, what matter how the north wind raved; this club of congenial spirits can and do most heartily enjoy their semi-occasional gatherings.

The Country School.

The Epworth League held its regular business meeting and social, Wednesday evening. After the business meeting a Country School social was enjoyed.

About 30 young men and women were dressed equal to the occasion. Alice Gammon was the teacher. She commenced her school by having the first division stand in the floor and spell.

After the spelling lesson was heard, a reading lesson was taken up. There was a recess, during which refreshments were served, being distributed to each person in paper bags.

At the next session the teacher asked the scholars to draw the picture of some animal on the board, while the scholar was drawing it, while the scholar was guessing what it was and write it down on a piece of paper. The very last lesson was a recitation lesson. Each scholar had a number and there were four of the same kind, and the same were to go out in the floor and recite some Mother Goose rhyme.

All enjoyed a good time, notwithstanding the unfavorable night. The school board were Elwood Brooks, Fred Allen and Winnie Snow.

W. C. T. U.

Conspicuous upon the W. C. T. U. women of our village just now are the blue and red ribbon bows they are wearing.

These tiny bows mean that the membership contest is raging hot, and it is war to the knife to see which side will get the most new members before April 14. At last accounts the blue side was ahead. The grand initiation into the mysteries of White Ribbons will take place at the vestry of the Baptist church Tuesday, April 14, at 2.30 p. m. Let every member be present to assist in giving the grip.

Verne Rich will resume charge of the mineral spring water business again next Monday.

Republican Caucus.

At the Republican caucus held at the Norway Opera house last Saturday afternoon, George R. Howe was chosen chairman and Charles P. Barnes secretary. This was one of the largest caucuses in point of attendance ever held in Norway. Ninety-six ballots were cast for a Republican town committee all being for:

A. J. Stearns, Esq.,
T. P. Richardson,
George H. Dunn,
G. W. B. Judkins,
Frank A. Mann.

who were declared duly elected. Six candidates were elected to attend the state convention at Portland, April 30 to nominate six candidates for electors of president and vice president and four delegates at large to attend the Chicago convention. They were:

W. W. Whitmarsh,
V. C. Leavitt,
V. L. Partridge,
S. J. Record,

each of above receiving 32 votes and Irving Frost, 28 votes.

Mr. Frost received 28 votes and Mr. Whitmarsh 28.

The above six were declared elected. The delegates were instructed to work for delegates at large who are favorable to the nomination of William Howard Taft for President.

A Public Landing a Necessity.

Did you ever think of it? Thirty odd cottages by the lakeside and more building each year and no public landing. These cottages are taxed and per right it seems to us that it is not asking too much for the town to own and maintain a public wharf where cottage owners and people who have business up the lake can land without trespassing.

There isn't any good place for such a landing on the road—as all the water front is occupied by logs—yet there is a necessity for a public wharf and there should be one somewhere.

Maybe one could be had between the steamer wharf and Stephenson's. This would require the laying out of a way over the land of Geo. A. Cole and by his boat house.

A petition of those interested would receive careful consideration by the proper authorities as any other petition for a public way and our way of thinking it would be the proper thing to do.

Why not start the petition?

It has been reported on the street that A. L. Sanborn would try to obtain the position of night watchman for the coming year. Mr. Sanborn wishes to deny this report as he says there is no truth in it. He expects to go on the road as a traveling salesman in a few weeks.

"Our Boys."

Our Boys at Norway Opera House on Wednesday evening, was all that manager, Chester E. Oelrich, had promised, a comedy gem. Mr. Oelrich has lots of courage to stage such plays as, "The Only Home in the Arizona" and "Our Boys," with local talent, and now in May he is to give us "The Christian."

The make-ups were artistic and that of every character a study, appropriate for the time and season, neither over nor under. He has brought the points that wanted emphasis.

The two boys came home after having been sent abroad to travel, study and polish off by their wealthy fathers, the aristocratic Sir Geoffrey and the retired pattern merchant, Fred Moore as Sir Geoffrey's son was about as sissy and disappointing to his father and friends as could be, Chester E. Oelrich, the butter merchant's, Frank Kimball's son, was a pretty fair specimen of a young man, but he fell in love with the rich and somewhat haughty beauty, "Violet Melrose" or Mrs. June Hutchins who looked and acted her part, whom Sir Geoffrey's boy was supposed to marry. He fell in love with the penniless cousin, "Mary Melrose" or Mrs. Harry Mann, an outspoken, fancy and care-free young lady.

Because the boys refused to follow their fathers' "systems" and not marry the young ladies of their own choice, they were out without even the proverbial shilling and went out into the world to get their own living.

Poverty went with them and abode with them in the sky parlor of a London boarding house, but their fathers, sweethearts and maiden aunt, Mrs. Melville Sampson, came to their rescue. The old folks could not play the Roman fathers longer. All got their heart's desire and we hope lived happy ever after.

There were bits of good acting all the way through. In the second act, Mrs. Mann's natural giggle and the shrug of the shoulders were true to life. Mrs. Sampson never did better work than as the maiden aunt.

Mrs. Charles Akers, Norway's favorite actress, did not have a very prominent part as "Selma" the clerk in the last act, but her work was a continued series of hits. She is a born actress. When she was on the stage everyone followed her, and their attention and applause were expressions of appreciation. This play was given for the benefit of the Pythian Sisters.

Fogg was called who pronounced the trouble to be black water. The horse suffered a good deal during the afternoon. C. F. Kirk, veterinary of Lewiston, was called to assist Mr. Fogg. Wednesday morning the horse was in an improved condition.

Make it Yourself.
Tells Our Readers How to Mix Best Rheumatism Cure.

A well-known authority on Rheumatism gives the readers of a large New York daily paper the following valuable, yet simple and harmless prescription, which any one can easily prepare at home:

Fluid Extract Dandelion, one-half ounce; Compound Kargon, one ounce; Compound Syrup Sarsaparilla, three ounces.

Mix by shaking well in a bottle, and take a teaspoonful after each meal and at bedtime.

He states that the ingredients can be obtained from any good prescription pharmacy at a small cost, and being of vegetable extraction, are harmless to take.

This pleasant mixture, if taken regularly for a few days, is said to overcome almost any case of Rheumatism. The pain and swelling, if any, diminishes with each dose, until permanent results are obtained, and without injuring the stomach. While there are many so-called Rheumatism remedies, patent medicines, etc., some of which do give relief, few really give permanent results, and the above will, no doubt, be greatly appreciated by many sufferers here at this time.

Inquiry at the drug stores of this neighborhood elicits the information that these drugs are harmless and can be bought separately, or the druggists here will mix the prescription for our readers, if asked to.

ONE OF PORTLAND'S LANDMARKS RESTORED

The building we show here is familiar to most of our readers who have visited Portland, having been occupied for the drug business of H. H. Hay continuously since 1856.

It was enlarged and completely remodelled in 1905, but through an unfortunate fire in November last, the new upper stories were destroyed, and the rest of the building almost completely wrecked.

It has now been restored and will be re-opened early this month with every modern improvement and convenience for quickly handling business in Drugs, Chemicals, Physicians' and Sick Room Supplies, Toilet Goods and Sundries.

It is a matter of interest to many to know that the upper floors of this block will be the home of the old reliable remedy, "L. F." Atwood's Bitters, a household safeguard known to many of us since childhood.

A corporation has been formed for taking over the Paint business of the concern, giving both branches a better opportunity to handle this rapidly increasing business. This will be carried on under the name of the Charles M. Hay Paint Co.

Our readers and the people of the State generally will, no doubt, be glad to avail themselves of the prompt mail order, and express facilities, with fair dealing which they are sure to meet with in addressing these two enterprising houses.

A Family For Old and Medicine Young

Acadia, Me., Aug. 3, 1906.

"My family has been using the true 'L. F.' Atwood's Bitters for many years, and they are perfectly satisfied. It is now a family medicine to us."

Yours truly, Emily Violette.

The surest safeguard against sickness is "L. F." Atwood's Bitters. Young and old can always depend upon them in diseases of the digestive organs. 35c. at the store.

TO CURE PAIN,
Necessary to Treat the Nerves Both Internally and Externally.

Nervous headaches, rheumatism, neuralgia, toothache, and other nerve troubles need internal treatment as well as external. Get right at the nerve centre with a small dose of Neuralgic Anodyne, which will soothe and quiet the whole nervous system. At the same time, rub a little Anodyne on the affected part, and it will find its way through the pores of the skin to the aching tissues and throbbing nerves.

Neuralgic Anodyne is so uniformly successful in curing all aches and pains that it is sold by dealers everywhere with the understanding that the money will be refunded if it does not do all that is claimed for it. A large-sized bottle costs but 25 cts.

Neuralgic Anodyne is also invaluable in quickly curing colds, croup, sore throat, etc., and in taking the soreness out of bruises, sprains, cuts and chilblains. Made by The Twitchell-Champlin Co., Portland, Me.
